Community Support:

Arts

Education

Darron is actively involved in the community, participating in a variety of causes focused around the local arts and education. He serves on the Board of Violets Are Blue, a non-profit organization that aims to improve the quality of life for struggling residents in the inner city areas of Nassau by creating sources of income through the implementation of small businesses, education in entrepreneurship, and providing active on the ground support and guidance.

Darron is also passionate about helping underprivileged children in the country through positive influences at a young age in the areas of arts, education and culture. He participates in various organizations including The Ranfurly Children's Home and The Boys Brigade, where he gives guidance and encouragement to young men in the community.

"I enjoy helping people and making a difference in their lives by giving those a voice, who otherwise wouldn't have had one."
